

ART DROP FOR LIBRARIES

From 25th May 2024

Calling all Artists,
Activists, Writers,
Poets & Treasure
Seekers!

Artists

We invite you to make and release a bookmark into a book of your choice in your local library.

- Make one or more bookmarks - visual art or written word, handmade or digital. Sign and add your social media handle.
- Attach a BLL tag. This step is optional, but will help the campaign - download the pdf on our website.
- Release your bookmark(s) into books of your choice in your local library, not before Sat 25th May.
- Use the hashtag #Libraryartdrop to tell bookmark seekers which library your bookmark has been released into. If you like, include a clue about the book or the section of the library where your bookmark resides. (Support the campaign by using #brumloveslibraries & #librarieschangelives as well).

Bookmarks by @lorettailaria released in Stirchley Library

www.birminghamloveslibraries.org

Seekers

We invite you to find, then keep, swap, or release artist bookmarks into another book.

- Follow the hashtag #Libraryartdrop on social media, and follow @Brumloveslibraries for tips, clues and updates.
- Visit your local library frequently to seek released artist bookmarks. They will be tucked into a book somewhere on the shelves from Saturday 25th May onwards.
- If you find an artist bookmark, please take out the book you found it in using your library card. If you are not a library member - please join! These actions will help support your local library.
- Decide whether to keep, swap or release your found bookmark and use the hashtag #Libraryartdrop to post about your find. Don't forget to tag the artist!
- If you decide to release the bookmark for another seeker to find, choose a book on the library shelves and tuck it inside the cover.